

Sanitary Napkin Production and awareness regarding menstrual health and hygiene

ICA Nepal
Institute of Cultural Affairs (ICA) Nepal
Koteshwor, Kathmandu

Contact: 015147215

1. Sanitary napkin machines imported from India was installed in Changunarayan

2. One of the participants using the machine. Ten local women were trained to prepare the napkin.

3. The participant using the machine to cut the white paper to develop the shape of napkin.

4. Sanitary napkin being produced

5. Participants on low cost sanitary napkin production along with the trainer from India

6. Participant putting together the different raw materials needed for the napkin

7. Participants being trained on sanitary napkin making

8. Participants practicing the production of napkin

9. The napkin making in process

10. Sanitary napkins being dried after the making

11. Participants making and observing the process of sanitary napkin making

12. Trainer providing instructions on making sanitary napkins

13. Local women group producing the sanitary napkin after receiving the training

14. Promotion and Marketing Training provided to local women group

15. Participants of promotion and marketing training doing the presentation

16. Women presenting about her marketing ideas during promotion and marketing training

17. Participants of promotion and marketing training conducting the market research regarding sanitary napkins

18. Participants doing a small experiment to test the absorbing quality of sanitary napkin

19. Local women group in discussion about sanitary napkin production along with ICA Nepal representatives

20. Ms Sakiko Kurosaka from Embassy of Japan, Nepal observing the sanitary napkin production during the completion ceremony

The wife of Honorable Former Prime Minister, Ms. Gayatri Nepal observing the production of sanitary napkin during the Completion ceremony on 24th January, 2017.